From the moment you enter the gate, it's evident that years of thoughtful management, pride of ownership, and intentional improvement have gone into creating a premier whitetail and turkey hunting sanctuary.

Featuring the perfect balance of gently rolling timbered ridges, fertile creek bottoms, and open ridgetops with an abundance of water throughout. Two scenic, rock-bottom creeks wind through the heart of the property and create the perfect terrain and layout for this wildlife paradise. Fifteen established food plots are strategically placed throughout the farm. Seven perfectly positioned elevated blinds with proven locations create a turnkey setup for serious hunters. One of the standout features is the extensive trail system with over 10 miles of maintained trails providing incredible access for recreation, management, and hunting.

The land management and wildlife history on this property is exceptional, with active timber management, warm-season grass plantings, fertilized foodplots, chestnut and fruit tree orchards, and much more. Adding to its long-term value and seclusion, the farm adjoins a 3,000+ acre Boy Scouts of America Camp along the northern boundary, offering a massive buffer of protected land. For additional recreation, Truman Lake is just a short drive to the west.

The improvements are well thought out and ideal for hosting family and friends. The cabin features two large bedrooms and two full bathrooms, along with a comfortable living room, kitchen, and covered front and back porches - all under a durable metal roof. A newer wood-burning stove and updated fixtures add warmth and charm. The large outbuilding is equally impressive, offering a spacious workshop, equipment storage, and well-designed living quarters that include a locker room, bunkroom, full bathroom, kitchen, and laundry - perfect for extended stays and hunting season use.

Access is excellent, with frontage on State Highway 82 and a well-maintained county road. Road frontage is fully fenced with multiple gated entrances providing great access to the property.
