AGENT CONTACT

With a lifelong respect for the outdoors and a proven record of professional success, Joel Owens brings a unique blend of passion, discipline, and relationship-driven experience to his role as a land agent, serving clients throughout Central Texas.

Before pursuing land sales, he spent 25 years in technology sales, where he built strong client relationships, negotiated complex deals, and earned multiple leadership and performance awards, including several President's Club honors. Though he thrived in that fast-paced world, Joel felt called to work with something more tangible, something that would connect him to the land, people, and lifestyle he values most.

An avid outdoorsman, Joel grew up hunting, fishing, and working on ranches across Texas. Those hands-on experiences gave him a deep appreciation and understanding of what makes a property functional and desirable, whether for recreation, wildlife, or investment. His background in wildlife management further enhances his ability to help clients recognize a property's potential.

As a central Texas native now living in Cedar Park with his wife, Jill, Joel continues to lead with integrity, teamwork, and respect. The same values were instilled in him by his father and refined through decades of experience in business and land stewardship. Combining his professional expertise with a genuine love for land, Joel is committed to helping buyers and sellers achieve their goals with confidence and care.
