MIDWEST LAND GROUP IS HONORED TO PRESENT

PASTURE & HAY GROUND IN CALDWELL COUNTY, MISSOURI

With the beef market holding strong, pasture and/or hay ground is becoming harder and harder to find. This 114 +/- acres in Caldwell County, Missouri could satisfy either or both of those needs. The farm is set up for a cattle operation with fencing and cross-fencing in some areas.

With roughly 60 acres open currently and the ability for 10-15 more acres with minimal clearing, this could support a decent herd. A 1.2 +/- acre pond in the front portion of the farm could provide a cooling and drinking area, along with the gate providing access to the eastern portion of the farm; this is the ideal spot for the grazing portion. The western side along the road is currently not fenced along the driveway, allowing for this area to be in hay production. There is a spring-fed creek in the northern portion of the farm that could provide water to the livestock and wildlife on the farm. The very back open field on the north end was in CRP in the past, and many of the plants and flowers from that are still in existence. The McBee Chappel Drive road frontage along the eastern half would be a good place to build a home, if one chooses to.

While touring and picturing the farm, sightings and evidence of deer were observed. With many timbered draws on the farm, this farm could be set up to hunt a few people without impeding each other.

If you are looking to expand or start a cattle operation, this is a farm that you should see. Great size, good location, and minimal work for getting the farm into production.
